and the instructors, including: Pre-Lab Exercises: PLEs encourage students to actively prepare for the lab by defining key terms, using labeling and coloring exercises to learn anatomical structures, and reviewing vital material from previous units, saving you from having to spend excessive time reviewing material from the lecture. Organized Anatomy: Many lab manuals do not offer specific lists of structures that the students are to identify. Instead, those lab manuals scatter the anatomical structures throughout the unit, making it difficult for both the student and instructor. EAPL features organized lists of structures that provide a centralized list for the students, in turn making it easy for instructors to customize based upon preference.

Model Inventories: Model Inventories help students catalog the specimens they see in the lab. The emphasis on examination, description, pronunciation, and writing of the names of anatomical structures encourages students to be actively involved in the learning process and allows them to better retain the material. Focused Activities: Focused Activity describes the overall philosophy of this lab manual. Students learn best when they are actively involved in the laboratory. Exploring Anatomy & Physiology in the Laboratory incorporates features designed for students to learn and retain the information. EAPL asks the students to participate, describe, write, draw, etc. Most other lab manuals simply ask students to read, notice, observe

"This book covers the 1300 years from the Villanovan and Etruscan forerunners of the Romans to the introduction of Christianity under the Emperor Constantine the Great. The text examines the Roman artistic output chronologically, showing how greatly it was influenced by the taste and patronage of the various emperors. Each chapter focuses on one historical period or dynasty, and explores the history, myth and literature behind the art."--BOOK COVER.
