Excerpt from The Irish Monthly, Vol. 35: A Magazine of General Literature The Imsn Momma! Has appeared punctually on the first of each month since 1873. It has enlisted a good deal of Irish talent in its service and gained a large amount of public favour. Not only Catholic writers in the Dublin Review, the Tablet, the Freeman's journal. Etc have borne testimony to its literary merit, but even the Spectator, the Academy, the Whitehall Review, Public Opinion. And other English journals. We are obliged to consult for many classes of readers, and the contents of the magazine have not always been so solid or of so directly religious a character as might be desired but it has. We believe, done good both directly and indirectly, and its utility will increase according as its position is more firmly established. It is likely to prove, by its permanence at least, an exception to most works of the kind heretofore undertaken in Ireland. One of our objects in beginning the year with this necessary introduction is to bind ourselves to print as speedily as possible various letters and other interesting relies of Aubrey de Vere, Sir Samuel Ferguson, and many others, which in various ways have come into our keeping.
