The earliest form of musical notation can be found in a cuneiform tablet that was created at Nippur, in Babylonia (today's Iraq), in about 1400 BC. The tablet represents fragmentary instructions for performing music, that the music was composed in harmonies of thirds, and that it was written using a diatonic scale. A tablet from about 1250 BC shows a more developed form of notation.

Musical notation - Wikipedia

In early music, clefs could be placed on any of several lines on a staff. G clef (Treble clef) The centre of the spiral assigns the second line from the bottom to the pitch G above middle C. [2] The treble clef is the most commonly encountered clef in modern notation, and is used for most modern vocal music.
