Judy Lindow IMO, the characters that have the most in common between the two books are the 2 male, main characters: we see that both place a high value on respecting others, on the moral and ethical choices they make, on being civil, on being open to the spontaneous moment, anticipating and ready for the next amazing experience. That both move between rags and riches is less important than it ...

Amor Towles says there is one character... — Rules of... Q&A

Being a Southern gentleman revolves around one word: respect. It ’ s respect for yourself and for those around you. Being a gentleman isn ’ t a personality quirk. It ’ s not something you turn on and off like a switch.
