typing course on the market. You'll be speed-typing while students trying other programs are still just getting started. Most computer-based programs designed to teach typing are still in the dark ages, pedagogically. The brain learns best by pictures. This typing course is unique in 3 ways: (1) Spaced repetition-five-minute lessons, several times a day! Away with hour-long drudgery! Rapid-fire quick imprints of the autonomic nervous system gets the job done. (2) Right brain-uses the picture side of the brain, not just the left side as other typing methods do. With Zoom-Type, you subconsciously learn where the letters LIVE, not just what they ARE. (3) Splintered skills-you learn each skill separately, in small increments, and then when you put them

Forget the 10,000 hour rule— what if it ' s possible to learn the basics of any new skill in 20 hours or less? Take a moment to consider how many things you want to learn to do. What ' s on your list? What ' s holding you back from getting started? Are you worried about the time and effort it takes to acquire new skills—time you don ' t have and effort you can ' t spare? Research suggests it takes 10,000 hours to develop a new skill. In this nonstop world when will you ever find that much time and energy? To make matters worse, the early hours of practicing something new are always the most frustrating. That ' s why it ' s difficult to learn how to speak a new language, play an instrument, hit a golf ball, or shoot great photos. It ' s so much easier to watch TV or surf the web . . . In The First 20 Hours, Josh Kaufman offers a systematic approach to rapid skill acquisition—how to learn any new skill as quickly as possible. His method shows you how to deconstruct complex skills, maximize productive practice, and remove common learning barriers. By completing just 20 hours of focused, deliberate practice you ' ll go from knowing absolutely nothing to performing noticeably well. Kaufman personally field-tested the methods in this book. You ' ll have a front row seat as he develops a personal yoga practice, writes his own web-based computer programs, teaches himself to touch type on a nonstandard keyboard, explores the oldest and most complex board game in history, picks up the ukulele, and learns how to windsurf. Here are a few of the simple techniques he teaches: Define your target performance level: Figure out what your desired level of skill looks like, what you ' re trying to achieve, and what you ' ll be able to do when you ' re done. The more specific, the better. Deconstruct the skill: Most of the things we think of as skills are actually bundles of smaller subskills. If you break down the subcomponents, it ' s easier to figure out which ones are most important and practice those first. Eliminate barriers to practice: Removing common distractions and unnecessary effort makes it much easier to sit down and focus on deliberate practice. Create fast feedback loops: Getting accurate, real-time information about how well you ' re performing during practice makes it much easier to improve. Whether you want to paint a portrait, launch a start-up, fly an airplane, or juggle flaming chainsaws, The First 20 Hours will help you pick up the basics of any skill in record time . . . and have more fun along the way.

hours, this book is full of quality material that is often left out in other guides. As an author with 10 years of typing experience, an average typing speed of 128 words per minute, and a volunteer at Typeracer.com, you can be assured you are learning from a reliable source. Additionally, many tips and techniques have been gathered from some of the top typists in the world and various typing forums, all compiled and presented in an easy-to-read chapter. It doesn't matter if you can type 10 words per minute or 100, there will be value in this book for you. Think about this: If you are currently 30 years of age and type at 80 wpm for 2 hours a day 5 days a week until you are 60 years of age, and assuming you type at 40 wpm, you will have saved 325 days of your life. 325 days of your life. If you
