The collects use the contemporary wording. The liturgical color appropriate for the day is indicated, when the color is green, red or purple, by the color of the numeral against a light grey background. When the liturgical color is white, the numeral is black against a white background. On weekdays, other than major Holy Days, the color indicated is the color appropriate to the season.

The United Methodist Church, prior to the early-1990s, used red solely for Pentecost, even including the Sundays after Pentecost Sunday, with the use of green being reserved for the season of Kingdomtide, which usually lasted from late August/early September until Christ the King (the last Sunday in Kingdomtide).

Liturgical colours - Wikipedia

White and Gold symbolize the brightness of day. Black is the traditional color of mourning in some cultures.
